Iran has many wonderful natural places that are home to special animals and plants. Many tourists visit these places to see Iran's beautiful nature and wildlife. One important place is Golestan Forest, where you can find wild animals like leopards. Another is Tooran, which is the natural home of animals such as the Persian zebra. Moghan Plain in the northwest is also a beautiful area where many birds and small animals live. In the south, the Persian Gulf has amazing sea life, including colorful fish and dolphins.

These habitats are very important because they give animals a safe place to live. Unfortunately, some of these places are in danger because people are cutting down trees and building too many houses. If we don't protect these places, many endangered animals and plants will soon die out like the Persian lion did around 85 years ago. All humans should work together to keep nature safe and clean for themselves and for the animals that live there.

A. Is it true or false? (1)

58. We can find Persian zebras in the Moghan Plain in the northwest of the country.

a) True b) false

59. The Persian lion is going to die out in 85 years. a) True b) False

Muhammad al-Idrisi was a famous Muslim geographer and scientist in the 12th century. He lived in a city called Ceuta, which was part of Sicily at the time. From a young age, he tried hard to learn new things and gain knowledge. Al-Idrisi traveled a lot on many journeys. He traversed various lands and deserts on foot or on camel. He hoped to develop a deeper understanding of the world. During his trips, he collected thousands of interesting facts about places, cultures and people, and a range of natural wonders. He did not give up when faced with difficult problems.

Al-Idrisi's most famous work is a big book of world maps. It is called "Tabula Rogeriana." He worked on it for about 15 years. The book had 70 colored maps and valuable information on more than 300 cities. It had many details, like rivers, mountains, and deserts. The book gave good suggestions to the travelers and pilgrims visiting holy places. It also helped people have a better understanding of the real shapes of continents. Many scientists after him used his maps and ideas. His work is not just about geography; it shows how a single person can change the way humans see the world.

A. Is it true or false? (1.5)

64. Al-Idrisi was interested in medicine when he was younger. a) True b) False

65. He spent around 15 years traveling through different places on Earth. a) True b) False

66. Many people used his ideas to develop their own maps. a) True b) False

B. Choose the best choice. (1.5)

67. According to the passage, al-Idrisi …… .

a. visited a holy place b. taught geography to his students

c. grew up in Ceuta d. translated some important books

68. The underlined word "traversed" is closest in meaning to …… .

a. traveled across b. paid attention to c. booked a journey to d. passed away

69. His most famous work, Tabula Rogeriana, did NOT give information …… .

a. about rivers and mountains b. to the scientists and geographers

c. about planets and stars d. to the pilgrims visiting holy places

C. Answer the following question completely. (1)

70. What did al-Idrisi do during his trips?
