It helps people in a society share their ideas, feelings, and knowledge. There are thousands of languages in the world, and each one is unique. Some languages have millions of native speakers, while others have only a few. For example, Mandarin Chinese has more than one billion native speakers. It is the most popular language in the world. On the other hand, some languages in small villages may have fewer than one hundred speakers. These languages are in danger and may disappear in the future .Learning a new language can be very useful. It can help you make new friends, learn about different cultures, and find better jobs. Many people around the world learn English as a second language because it is an international language. They use it for travel, business, and education. However, learning a language takes time and effort. You need to practice listening, speaking, reading, and writing. But with hard work and interest, anyone can learn a new language and enjoy its benefits. Choose the best answer. 1.
